

Published based on England Hammers Croatia and Qualifies for the 2010 World Cup

England Hammers Croatia and Qualifies for the 2010 World Cup

A 5-1 victory at Wembley Stadium gave England a free pass for South Africa in 2010, and easily qualify for the World Cup with two games to spare. Four goals scored from free play, and a penalty for England made the job look easy against Croatia.

However it was the very same 2 years ago that knocked England out of the European Championship 2008.

For English supporters revenge will be very sweet indeed.

You can also find this article published on England Hammers Croatia and Qualifies for the 2010 World Cup