NFL Sunday Night NFL Wagering - Jacksonville Jaguars Versus New York Giants

The Jacksonville jaguars will take a trip up to the Meadowlands November 28th to take on among the toughest NFL defenses in the New York Giants. The New York Giants defense has fumbled in recent weeks but this will be a home game they'll be worked up for.

The defensive line is the thing that makes or breaks the Giants defense however their pass defenders are already holding NFL quarterbacks in check furthermore. The defensive line does deserve a bit of the credit for the defense holding NFL offenses under 190 yards passing per competition. The corners have not allowed big plays this season.

Versus the run the Giants defense is on the list of top five NFL clubs. They are permitting less than 85 yards per game on the ground and this may eliminate Garrard's capability to establish the play action pass. Look for a heavy pass rush early in this match and then a flex defense to clog up the short passing lanes.

David Garrard has been setting up big numbers recently and this game against the Giants defense will test his fortitude. Garrard has had some major offensive competitions but the Jaguars passing game continues to be averaging beneath 200 yards passing per match.

The Jaguars running game is averaging above 130 yards per game on the ground with Maurice Jones-Drew as their big match back and he'll have a difficult time grinding out yards vs a solid New York Giants defense. The Giants defense has the edge over the Jaguars offense in sports betting.

The Jacksonville jaguars defense is good vs the run, giving up only over 110 yards per game but they're hemorrhaging yards versus the pass. The defense is giving up over 270 yards vs the pass and they're towards the bottom of pro football in total yards allowed with 387. The Jaguars must stop the Giants run early if they plan on having a fighting chance in this match.

The New York Giants have wiped out the memories of their sluggish start to the season on offense and Eli Manning is developing into a nice pocket passing qb. The knock on Manning in previous years has been his deficiency of leadership but he has fine-tuned to the spotlight since his first Super Bowl win. Manning's new receiver was Hakeem Nicks however Mario Manningham has developed into a reliable second option.

On the ground Ahmad Bradshaw has been a beneficial tool for the Giants offense. Bradshaw has ko'ed some huge games on the ground and the New York Giants and they're averaging nearly 150 yards per competition on the ground.
