A Review Of The Professional Roulette System

Let's have a look at one of the more popular roulette system eBooks that is currently being sold in Clickbank. The name of it is the professional roulette system, and it looks like any other get rich quick website when you first see it.

There are a lot of fonts used and there is lots of bold text in the sales pitch, making the whole thing difficult to read actually. You will also find numerous video testimonials on the site although these should be taken with a pinch of salt.

This is due to the fact that the testimonials are not real, instead the seller has gone to a website called fiverr and spent $5 each on them. This sort of thing is a problem that is ever growing because more and more people are offering it for a cheap price.

We will not however look at the system itself and how it is used. In short, it is a bit of a different version of the D'Alembert system, this can be read up on at many free websites out there. The D'Alembert system is a simple one, you use it on even chance bets and after a loss you increase your bets by one then if you win you increase them by one.

You will be told by the professional roulette system to bet on each of the three even chance bets all at the same time, and for each one you need to use a D'Alembert progression. The three even chance bets are red/black, 1-18/29-36 and odd/even and each one has its own progression that isn't effected by the others.

It can be really difficult to utilize this so I would recommend that you first try it out on a free roulette game to get a better feel for it. This system is rather effective, but it is nothing like the claims that the website makes.

The seller was talking about it being a secret loophole which it certainly isn't because such loopholes don't exist. However, it is sold on Clickbank, so if you are not satisfied you can get a refund. You just need to send an email to Clickbank stating that you are not happy within 60 days, then they will get refund sorted for you with no issues.
