Logo Golf Balls: Personalized, Custom Logo, Novelty, Team Logo, and Photo Golf Balls

Precisely what are logo golf balls and who buys them? Custom logo golf balls are balls that have some type of logo, design, words, or emblem printed on them. They are sometimes referred to as stamped or embossed golf balls.

You will find that there are many companies and individual golfers that wish to order logo golf balls. The most common reason is to help distinguish your golf ball from the same brand that may be used by your playing partner so that your ball is not mistakenly played or picked up. Others want to stamp their personality on their golf balls with some type of design.

Companies and corporations normally use imprinted golf balls to help brand their company. They can order Logo Golf Balls with their company logo imprinted on them to promote their company. These logo balls can then be given away as prizes or simply given to prospective clients.

Following on below you can see the different sorts of imprinted or logo golf balls:

Personalized Golf Balls – In simple terms, a personalized ball is a ball that can be ordered with a few lines of text imprinted on it. Some golfers like to add a message to the person who finds their ball, others a funny verse, and companies might add their company contact details.

Custom Logo Golf Balls – A custom logo is when you order golf balls with your own custom design logo embossed on them. It might be a private golf club logo, a company logo, or high school logo, or any other sort of logo.

Team Logo Golf Balls – Some sports fans that are really fanatical about their team prefer to personalize their balls with a team logo. Some examples include teams from the MLB and NFL, as well as collegiate team logos.

Novelty Golf Balls – Unlike trick golf balls, novelty balls are brand name balls that are imprinted with some theme image. For example, I have seen novelty themes like quotes of Confucius, Bible verses, fraternities, and Halloween designs.

Photo Golf Balls – Lastly, you can order photo golf balls imprinted with a photo that the imprinted golf ball specialists provide or with one that you provide.

Some companies that specialize in Imprinted Golf Balls allow you to mix two types of imprinting on one ball. So, you can get a ball with IDAlign, which is your three initials plus an alignment mark in different designs. You can also get novelty or photo balls with personalization.

There are many types of logo and imprinted golf balls available, as you saw above. The type that you end up ordering will depend on the reason that you want or need imprinted golf balls.
