

Published based on Mawathee q misses King George

Mawathee q misses King George

Mawatheeque has been ruled out of the King George VI And Queen Elizabeth Stakes on Saturday.

The five-year-old has endured an interrupted campaign having been forced to miss the Dubai World Cup through injury and he was well beaten on his sole appearance of 2010 in the Prince Of Wales's Stakes at Royal Ascot.

He was withdrawn at the start of the Coral-Eclipse at Sandown after failing to enter the stalls and trainer Marcus Tregoning does not feel his charge is ready to compete in Ascot's Betfair-sponsored summer showpiece.

"We were going to work him somewhere this weekend but we decided against it and that means he will miss the King George," said Tregoning.

"We've just decided to give him a bit more time as we don't feel he's going to be ready for Ascot.

"We haven't decided where we're going with him yet but we just feel he wants a bit more time after the injury problem he had in the spring."

You can also find this article published on Mawatheeque misses King George, and on the tag pages Ascot, bit, king george vi, queen elizabeth stakes, royal ascot, time.