

Published based on Memories Of My First Holiday In Spain

Memories Of My First Holiday In Spain

My first ever holiday was when I was 5yrs old, it was at a Villa in Moraira with my mother, father and grandfather. I clearly remember my first ever holiday abroad spent at a holiday villa in Moraira, Spain which after my first ever flight on an aircraft and a long drive in a ridiculously small hire car we finally arrived in the middle of the night unable to locate the right villa.

All I remember most was learning to swim in the pool on the villa complex surrounded by Spanish villa images and how the weather was sunny, hot and very humid! One of the best coastlines in Spain is the resort of Moraira in the region of Coast Blanca. This resort offers many great beaches ideal for families and children as well as a marina!

There are lots of shops, restaurants and bars in the town centre, where you can try out the finest Spanish cuisine including the famous paella dish as well as the seafood which is all locally caught and displayed at the picturesque marina every morning. Well worth a visit.

The villa we stayed in was called Villa Moraira had all the usual facilities as well as two very spacious bedrooms, accompanied by a decent sized balcony which looked out onto a large shared swimming pool, even though this was the middle of July I seemed to be the only person using it! Across the road was a tennis court which was free to use \(once again we were the only people to use it\) unfortunately not being old enough to play, I had to sit and watch, as did two dobermans sitting behind a large fence of a neighbouring villa directly above the court, any balls up there were not retrieved!

You can also find this article published on Memories Of My First Holiday In Spain, and on the tag pages Moraira, moraira spain, pool, Villa, villa in moraira, villa moraira.