Security And Layout Are Two Of Many Features Of Casino Poker Chips

Las Vegas casino chips are perfect for you if you're looking for the best. There is a rumor with these chips that there is a limit on their weight. This isn't true, the fact is that the difference in the weights of poker chips depends on the kind of material used, the design of the poker chips and how much ink has been used in it. So that there is no forgery, different casinos in Vegas have their own distinct composition and this is protected.

To guarantee its authenticity, each casino has its copyrighted design and the manufacturing units where these casino poker chips are made from are highly secured. The standard diameter of the poker chips is 39 mm and the weight comes about 10 grams. There are actually 3 major manufacturers who are making these poker chips in Vegas. These are Chipco, Paul-Son and Bud Jones. Their designing processes, techniques and other procedures all are different and unique. Paul-Son for example uses a compression mold technique in which high pressure is used in fusing colors into a solid piece. And on the other hand Bud Jones uses injection molding technique. Pre formed letters, patterns and denominations are solidified by injecting plastic around them in this technique. Metal inlay chips may also be used sometimes. Chipco is the newest manufacturer. They're using a different technique of ceramic material injection that is molded into one piece. In their method, their chips look really well finished and you can actually feel the designs and full graphics on them. Casinos have custom poker chips for a reason.
