

Published based on Star-spangled line-up for Newmarket

Star-spangled line-up for Newmarket

Golden Jubilee hero Starspangledbanner features among 17 confirmations for the Darley July Cup next Friday.

The Australian import got off the mark on European soil with an impressive win at Royal Ascot and is likely to sign off his racing career at Newmarket next week, when his trainer Aidan O'Brien could also be represented by Alfred Nobel.

A number of those beaten in the Golden Jubilee are set to reoppose, including the runner-up Society Rock, the American-trained third Kinsale King and last year's July Cup winner Fleeting Spirit.

She finished fourth in the Golden Jubilee on her first start of the season, despite being done no favours by the draw.

Marchand D'Or won this in 2008 and is another who could bid for a second win in the Group One contest.

King's Stand winner Equiano could step back up to six furlongs, as could Australian speedster Nicconi.

John Gosden has left in both Meezaan and Showcasing, Alain de Royer-Dupre could be represented by Varenar and War Artist, while Balthazaar's Gift, Kingsgate Native, Prime Defender, Alverta and Serious Attitude complete the possibles.

You can also find this article published on Star-spangled line-up for Newmarket, and on the tag pages darley july cup, european soil, Golden, Jubilee, royal ascot, Star-spangled.