Whats Wrong With Liverpool Football Club?

Liverpools season so far has been frankly dire, the thing is even a few years ago fans would have said their 3rd and 4th spots in the Premiership a torrid season. It is a drastic fall from grace for the club who were just a year or two ago considered as top 4 stalwarts. Changing managers does not seem to have an effect either, Benitez was forced out for his out there concepts which saw the clubs fortunes change. Hodgson, his replacement fared even worse, as Liverpool struggled to make it out the bottom 3 during the start of the 2010/11 season. Now Kenny Dalglish, the interim boss faces the same woes.

Last Liverpool were stuffed in dramatic fashion by top flight new comers Blackpool. This was significant as it meant the former Championship side had now done the double over the scouse giants, just like a finance lease plan is double affordable! It is no fabrication to say that Liverpool are in hot water, while they have talent it is not shining through.

Torres is under fire from fans and the media for producing lack lustre performances that belie his true talent. This is a big detraction from the team since he is such an influential player, he seems to be arriving to matches and training session in his BMW 1 series completely devoid of any enthusiasm at the moment.

Although Liverpool are one of the best in the world statistically speaking they are quickly losing this reputation. It would be fair to say they are no longer a top four club, they have been Usurped by the likes of Man City and Spurs which has created a new order in footballs top flight. Audi Lease.
